Headteacher's Message

It's been a very busy week. Our EYFS enjoyed their trip to 'Bring Yer Wellies' in Houghton on Thursday.

As you know, Ofsted also visited us this week. We have been incredibly touched and moved by all the messages of support (and treats) from parents. We are very lucky to have such a supportive parent community. Our children were an absolute credit and did us proud. We are very pleased with how the inspection went. The report will be available in due course.

Finally, it looks like summer has made an appearance finally. Fingers crossed the field dries out next week ready for sports day. We'll be keeping a close eye on the weather forecast!

Have a good weekend.

Best wishes,

Mr Ian P. Ashmore

Reflection Time

'Jesus asks them, "Aren't two sparrows sold for a penny? Yet not one of them falls to the ground without your Father's consent."

Matthew 10:29-31

This week in our worship, our theme has been 'Being Thankful for who we are.' We thought about how we can't put a price on us as individuals. For example, our finger print is unique. An individual is the only person who will ever have that fingerprint. There has been no human like you in the past, no one exactly like you now and there will be another human like you in the future. We are a complete one off: unique and entirely priceless.

This week in our Picture News, we looked at the news that the UK government has launched a new website, prepare.campaign.gov.uk, designed to help people plan for potential dangers and equip themselves with the essential knowledge and resources to respond effectively. Households are encouraged to understand the hazards in their local area by checking their long-term flood risk and signing up for flood and weather warnings. Creating an emergency plan is another aspect of being prepared, including deciding on escape routes and keeping important phone numbers to hand. The children considered the question: "Should we always be prepared for an emergency?" Our 'Picture News at Home' can be found on the last page of this newsletter.

Attendance Matters

The NHS Guidance, 'Is my child too ill for school?' has information on the most common illnesses. It can be found here: <https://www.nhs.uk/live-well/is-my-child-too-ill-for-school/>

Reducing Illness Days

- When a child has a day off we must be notified by a parent or carer as to why. This can be a note or a telephone call. A child returning to school after an unexplained absence will be marked as unauthorised absence until we receive a valid explanation.
- If your child is saying they do not feel well and you are unsure about whether it warrants a day off please send them to school. If they are truly ill we will ring you.
- Use common sense when deciding whether or not your child is too ill to attend school. Ask yourself the following questions:
 - Is my child well enough to do the activities of the school day?
 - Does my child have a condition that could be passed on to other children or school staff?
 - Would I take a day off work if I had this condition?

Things to talk about at home ...

- > Do you have any plans in case of emergencies in your household? Is it something that you prioritise?
- > Have you, or anyone at home, ever experienced an emergency? Were you prepared for it? If so, if it happened again, is there anything you would do differently?
